Graduate Certificate in Community Development (C1107): Course Plan

Welcome to postgraduate study at Murdoch and the Community Development program.

The Graduate Certificate is completed by choosing 12 credit points worth of units from the list of specified electives. The table below lists the specified electives and when they are available for enrolment. The Graduate Certificate is also customizable by choosing some alternative units as part of your study, which can be approved by the Academic Chair. If you have questions about this or you are looking for some guidance, please get in touch with Cam Tero, Academic Chair for Community Development: c.tero@murdoch.edu.au

More information about the units below can be found by using the unit codes to search the Murdoch handbook: https://handbook.murdoch.edu.au

Units	Availability	Credit points
COD502: Community Development in Indigenous Communities	S2	3
COD503: Narratives of Community Practice	S1, S2	3
COD504: Community, Policy and Change	S1	3
COD505: Community, Industry and Local Government	S1, S2	3
COD545: Community Development Theory and Practice	S1, S2	3
COD601: Community Development Methods	S2	3
COD603: Contemporary Practice in Community Development	winter	3
COD608: Community Development Internship	S1, S2, Y, H	6
SUS512: Sustainability, Ecology and Communities	S1, S2	3
TLC501: Communication Skills for Postgraduate Study (recommended for students new to studying in Australia)	S1, S2	3